2023 MEMBERSHIP
DIRECTORY

CELEBRATING 30 Years
MESA COUNTY
LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

CATALYST • CONVENER • CHAMPION

LOOKING FORWARD INTO A NEW BUSINESS YEAR

First and foremost, we would like to take a moment to show heart-felt gratitude for the continued investment in our organization from our members, stakeholders, and community that continually supports our local businesses.

Chambers of Commerce are more important now than ever. While often thought to be just about networking parties and events, organizations like ours work tirelessly to assist our business community with navigating barriers and burdens that prevent them from thriving is our mission. Through providing resources and being a steadfast advocate for the voice of business, we are there with our businesses, every step of the way. Together, alongside our many community stakeholders and partners, we do the hard work that keeps economic prosperity within our Valley diverse, strong, and growing.

Without your support, engagement, and loyalty, we would not be able to provide resources and opportunities to promote a strong business climate. Simply put, we cannot do what we do without you!

This past year we proudly:

- » Welcomed 85 new members and hosted 38 ribbon cutting ceremonies
- » Offered over 40 opportunities to engage and create meaningful connections with your business peers
- » Connected 75 student interns, 14 apprentices, and 60 job shadows within our local businesses
- » Celebrated over 80 new jobs created and $36.1 million in capital investments through our Business Retention & Expansion program
- » Took action on 43 pieces of legislation to advance the needs of our small businesses while preventing barriers for economic prosperity in Mesa County

With your continued investments and support in 2023, we are able to look forward to continuing our efforts to support workforce development, economic development, advocacy, and business connections, remaining dedicated to being a catalyst for business growth, a convener of leaders and influencers who make things happen, and a champion for a stronger community.

After all, a thriving economy equals a thriving community and our businesses are the lifeblood that makes it happen.

With gratitude,

President & CEO
Grand Junction Area Chamber of Commerce

SALON

"Harrahs Salon has been a Chamber member since 1997. They have been instrumental in our success. It has been helpful to get information on what is happening around the city, county and state. The Chamber always supports business on the political front that as a small business, I may not have time for. There are so many ways to be involved and meet new people and businesses! From the leads groups, to being a Board member and everything in between, the chamber has been a true support to us in building our business. They are truly an advocate for local businesses of all sizes!"

My investment has brought me into conversations with many decision makers in our community. These conversations broaden my perspective as a business manager on what collaborative partnerships will drive business forward. My business has benefited from the exposure; referrals and direct business have increased. Being an investor in the Grand Junction Area Chamber of Commerce is an excellent way to find consensus on how to build a strong business community together. My experience has been gratifying. I am continuing to learn and build new relationships."

Surrounded by the natural beauty of the Colorado and Gunnison Rivers and the Colorado National Monument, the City of Grand Junction is a full-service municipal government organization providing a broad range of services for community members who live, work, learn, and play in Grand Junction. The organization, which employs 780 full-time and hundreds of part-time and seasonal employees, is comprised of the following departments: Public Works, Police, Fire, Parks and Recreation, Utilities, Visit Grand Junction, Communications and Engagement, Information Technology, Finance, Human Resources, General Services as well as the City Manager, City Attorney and City Clerk's offices. Services provided by the City of Grand Junction are primarily funded by sales and use tax revenues, fees, property taxes, and grants.

Grand Junction was founded in 1882. In 1921, the citizens of Grand Junction voted to employ the Council-Manager form of government, which became popular in the early part of the 20th Century. This system combines the political leadership of elected officials with the managerial expertise of an appointed, professionally trained, local government manager. The members of the City Council are elected to make policy decisions and laws, similar to a board of directors in a private company. The City Council members select a Mayor from amongst themselves each year in May.

The City's serpentine main street, designed in the 1960s, features the country's largest outdoor art collection and is host to many unique businesses where visitors and residents can enjoy an elegant dinner or a quick burger, pick up a unique gift, or stop in for a tune up of their favorite two-wheel ride. Opportunities for outdoor recreation are varied and include hiking, biking, rafting, fishing, camping, and climbing. Cultural opportunities also abound with live music, dance, and theater, as well as museums and art galleries.

Grand Junction Media Inc. is a leading-edge company that has, at its heart, old-school business principles. We believe in marketing that makes you more money, in shooting straight and that the bottom line is the bottom line.

We're an offshoot of Seaton Publishing Company. The company chairman for the last 50 years was Edward Seaton. Ed was a serious person, went to Harvard, served as chair of the Pulitzer Prize committee, does all the homework, raised millions for charity in his hometown, read nothing but nonfiction and wore a coat and tie every day — that is also the kind of company he ran. He learned it that way from his father and his grandfather who bought the newspaper in Manhattan, Kansas, in 1915.

Family roots in newspapers go back to before the Civil War, including the first newspaper in Washington, D.C., a managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, and four members of the Kansas newspaper hall of fame. These are not venture capitalists or hedge fund outfits, making a profit through accounting tricks or selling off the real estate. These are people who show up every day, work hard, and provide a real service, both to the readers who rely on them to understand their communities and to businesses who are serious about trying to reach customers.

We've done that through print newspapers in six non-nonsense Midwestern cities including Grand Junction via Grand Junction Media Inc., in business since 1893 as The Daily Sentinel, and purchased in 2009 by Seaton Publishing. We've done it through a group of radio stations that we've operated since the 1950s and a group of radio stations in Western Colorado that we have owned for a half a decade. We've done it online since the mid-1990s, and we will do it better using the digital tools available now that square with the values we've operated by for all those years.

'Captive your Audience,' that's the result we want to provide to you, because we know that's what you want to provide to your customers. We want to help you reach them — using the same tools used by the silk stocking firms — yet drawing on the heritage that Seaton Publishing represents. Grand Junction Media is collaborative, innovative, and has a legacy of strength.

At Republic Services, we're committed to partnering with customers to create a more sustainable world.

This is our company vision, which is intentionally ambitious because we believe we are uniquely positioned to help our customers achieve their own sustainability goals. That commitment begins with our Elements of Sustainability – Safety, Talent, Climate Leadership and Communities – and these elements anchor our 2030 sustainability goals.

Throughout the past year we've made meaningful progress toward our 2030 goals. Our safety record over the last 10 years has been nearly 40% better than the industry average, and we continue to strive for zero fatalities because we want every team member to make it home every night. Our Talent goal is focused on employee engagement, and we're proud that our most recent engagement score remains higher than the U.S. average. We also continue to invest in the communities where we live and work; in 2021, we positively impacted 1 million people.

Our employees live here, work here and we're proud to serve this community.
